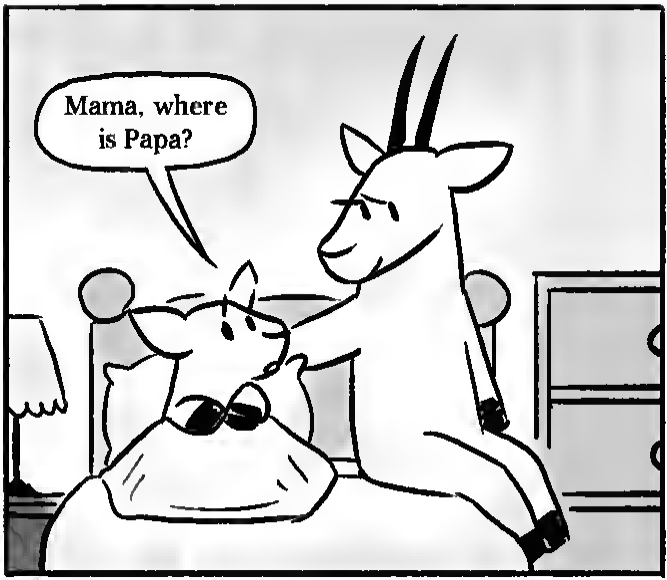
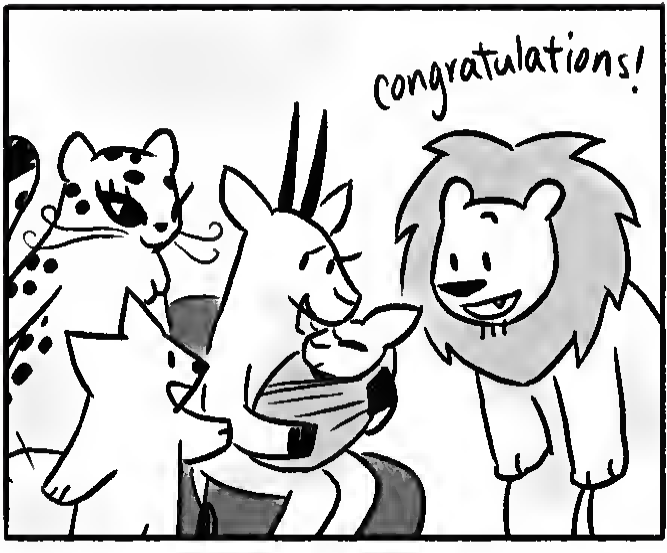
As I raise Anna, I keep telling her stories about Anton and how he was a great dad.



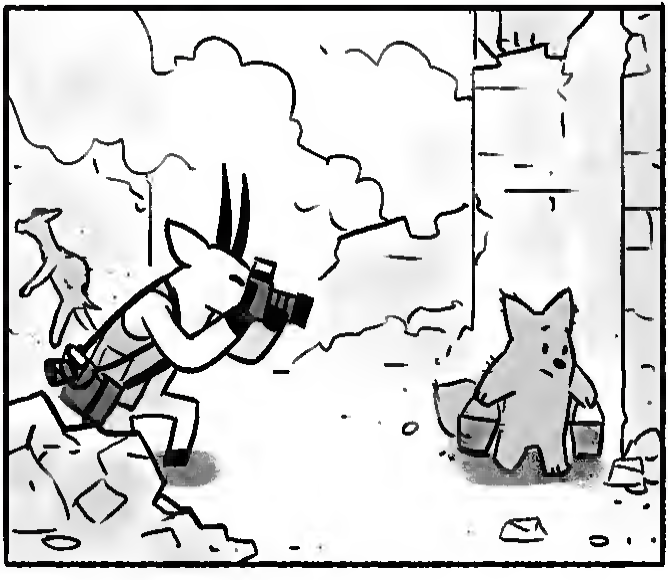


Anton was a great husband and father.

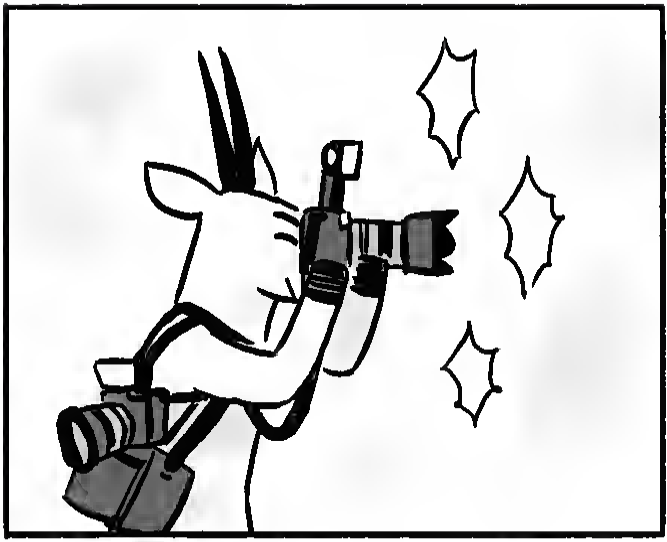
He was very responsible and caring for us.

Every year on Father's Day,

we will visit Anton and memorize him.

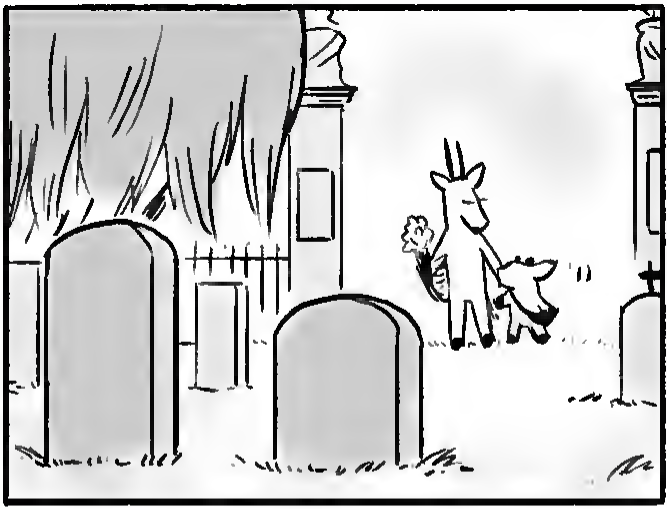


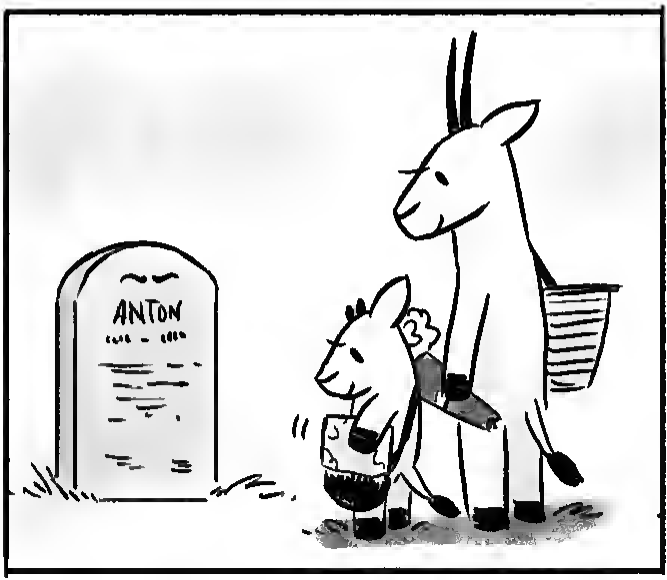
Unfortunately, when he was taking photos of a lost child in the ruins, he got hit by a stray bullet and it took his life.



He often worked with media and journal corporations,

so he knew Leo and friends.





ANTON

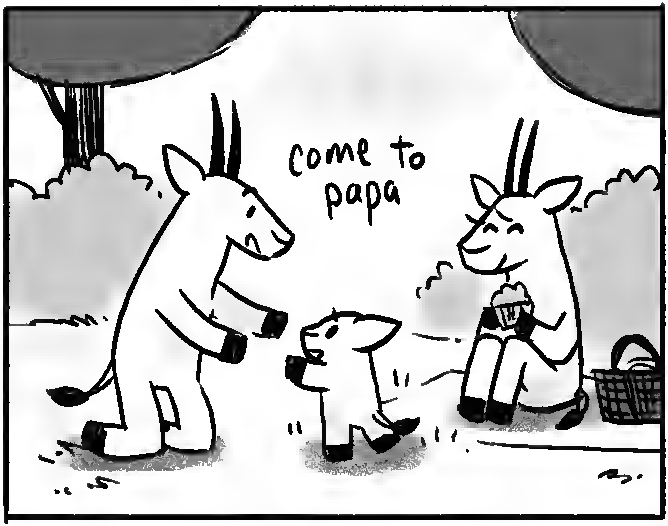
We were heart broken and mourned for him.

You must be tired today

Anna, Papa will be back very soon.
Take good care of Mommy, okay?
Please return safely.

We are very sorry about your loss, Anntelope.
Anton was bravely sacrificed... he will be remembered for his contribution to the world.
Thanks..

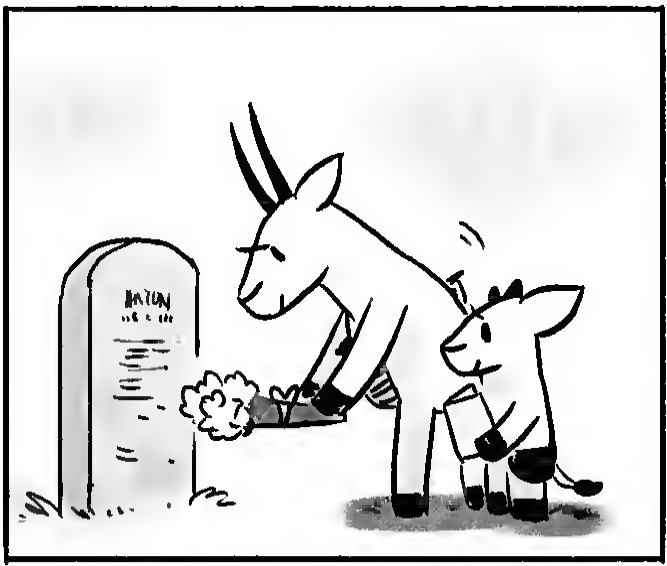
Anton took many precious photos that moved a lot of people, and I kept and organized his work.



Being a photographer,

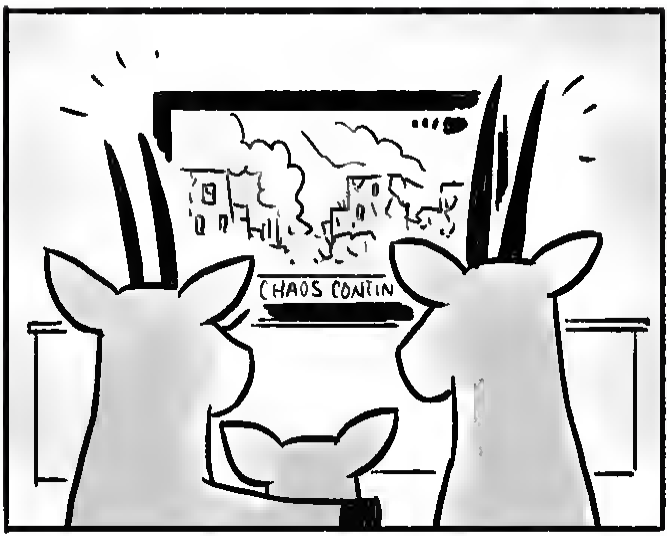
he also took many photos of our family.

He was a wonderful father.



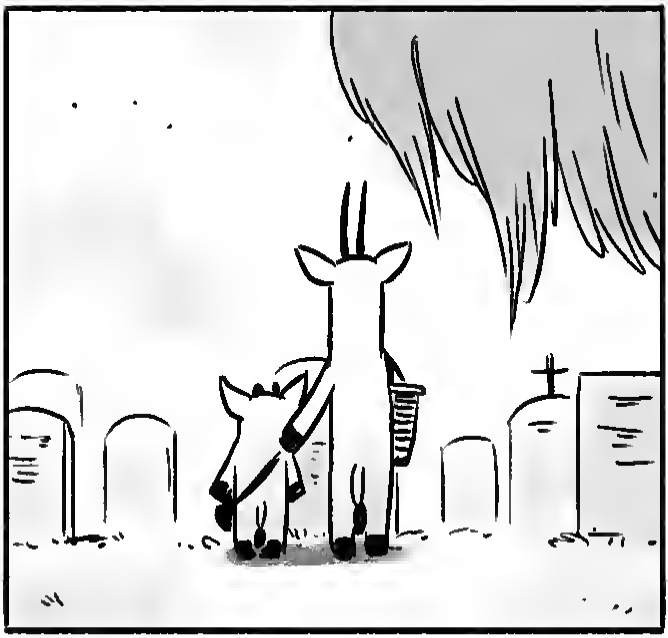
BATON

When Anna was 2 years old, Anton volunteered to be a war photographer in a remote country.

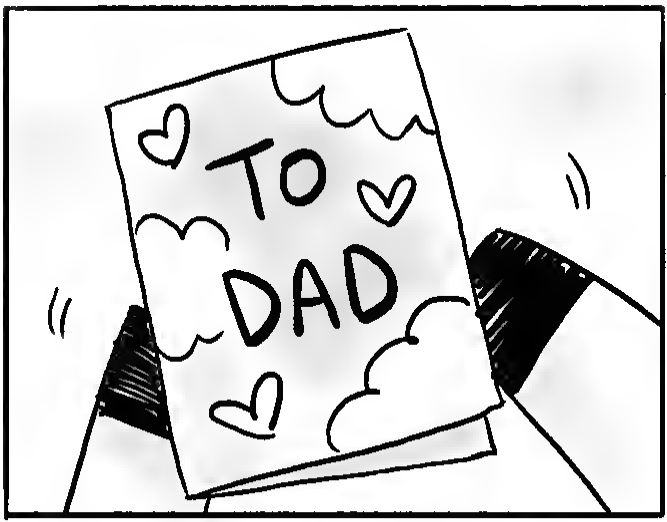


Time to go home, Anna.

Let's cook papa's favorite dish tonight.
Yay!



Thank you for being a great husband and father.



TO
DAD

I drew this card for you, papa! I hope you will like it.
Happy Father's Day!

WAR PHOTOGRAPHER SACRIFICED IN

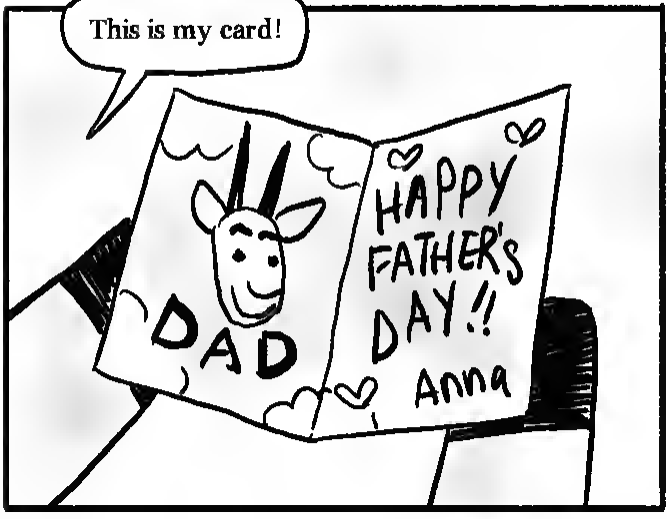
How's school today?
Today we made Father's Day cards.
Oh yes, it's Father's Day this weekend.



This is my card!
DAD
HAPPY FATHER'S DAY!!
Anna

My dad is like Anton in some ways. He is hardworking and very responsible for family. He always spends time with us whenever possible, even though he is busy with his job that requires him to travel often.

Thank you, dad!

*My dad also reads and supports my comic.

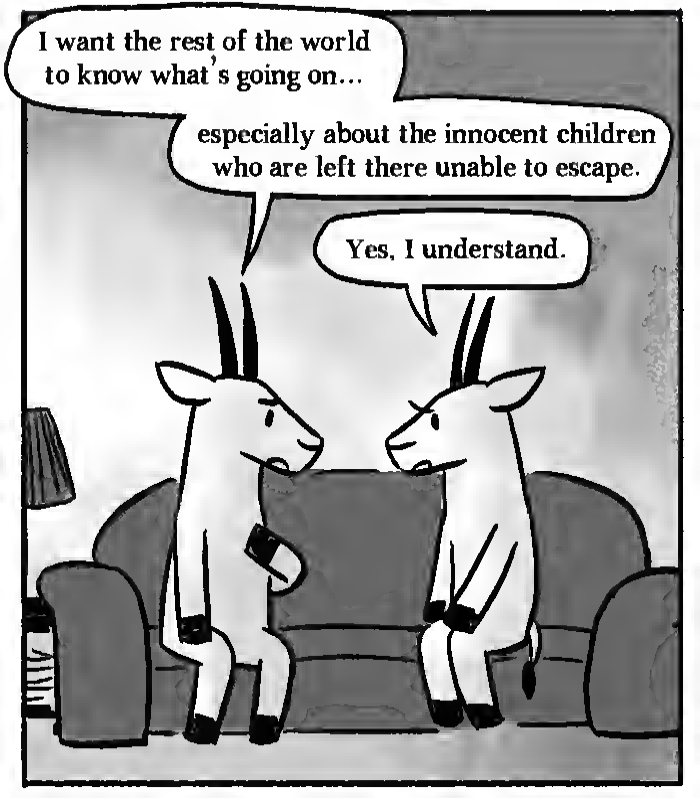
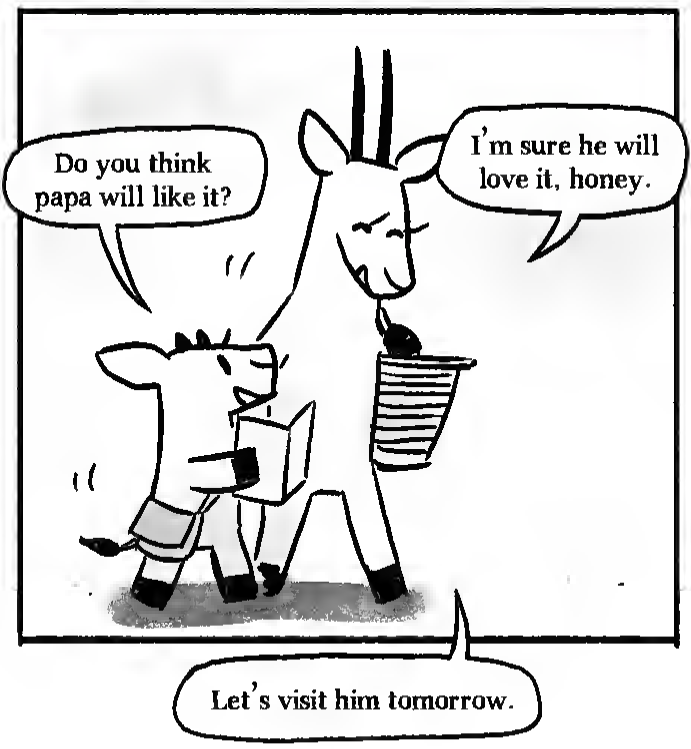
This is Anton, my husband and Anna's father.

He was a freelance photographer who loved capturing the different faces of life.

He always had a sense of mission to make the world a better place, so he wanted to go there to capture the truth and cruelty of war.

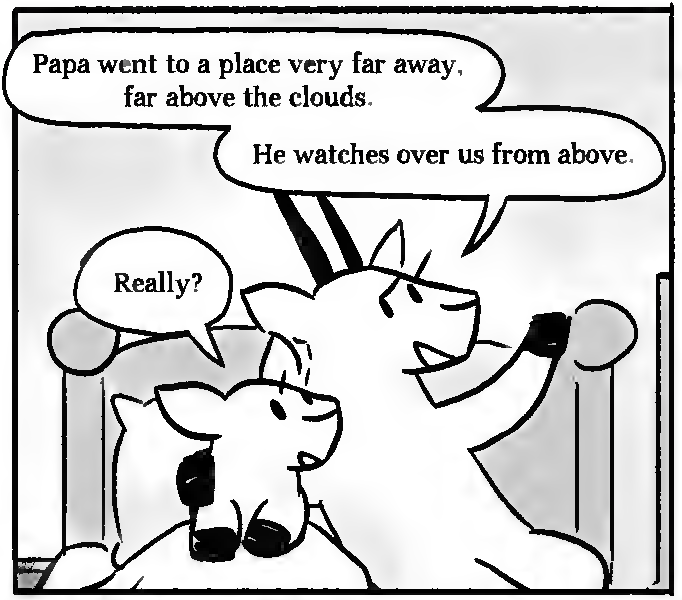


I want the rest of the world to know what's going on...
especially about the innocent children who are left there unable to escape.
Yes, I understand.



Do you think papa will like it?
I'm sure he will love it, honey.
Let's visit him tomorrow.

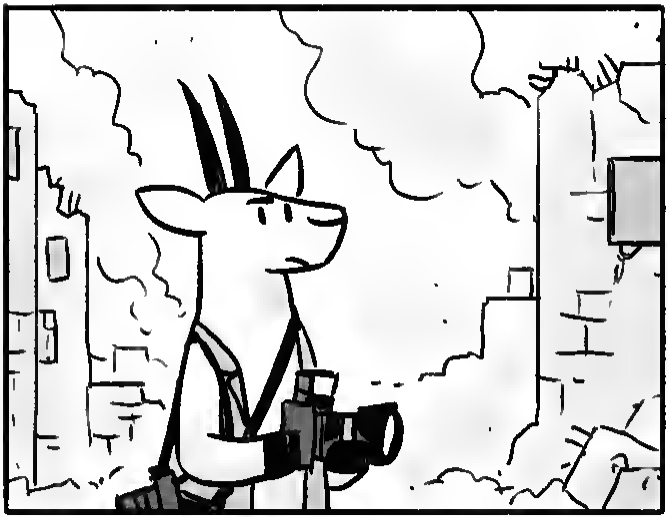
Hey my dear!
Hi mama!

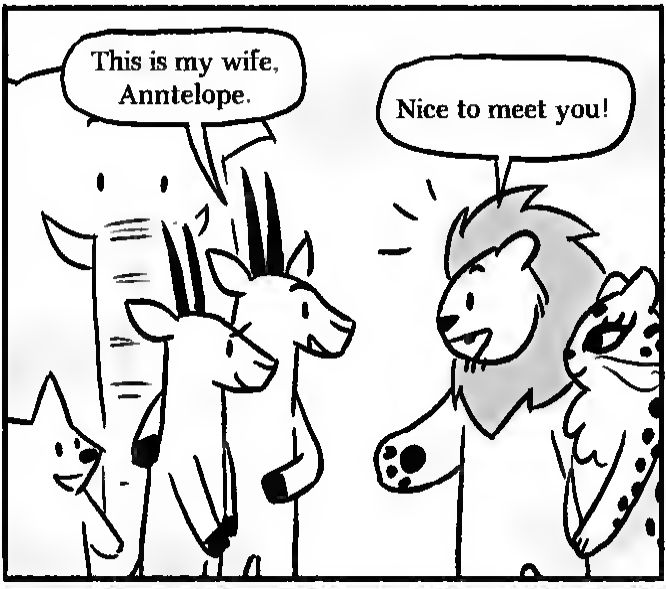


Papa went to a place very far away, far above the clouds.
He watches over us from above.
Really?

Yes. He is a hero and our guardian angel.
And always remember, my dear, Papa loves you very much.

Anton traveled a long way to the country in turmoil.



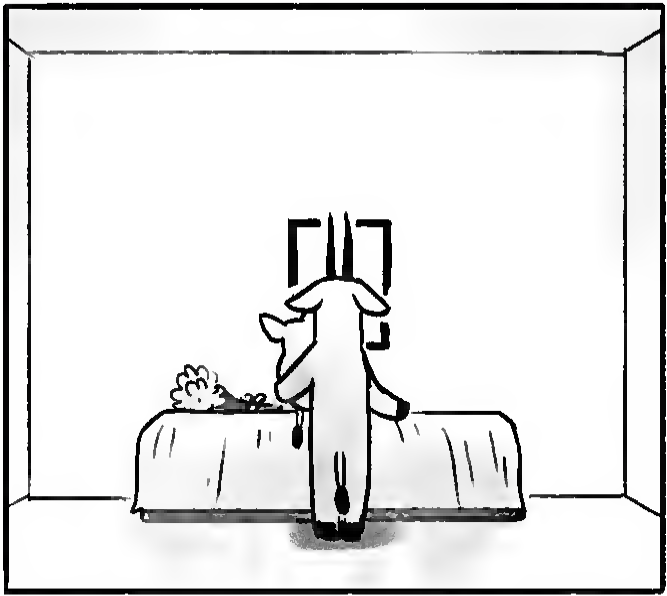


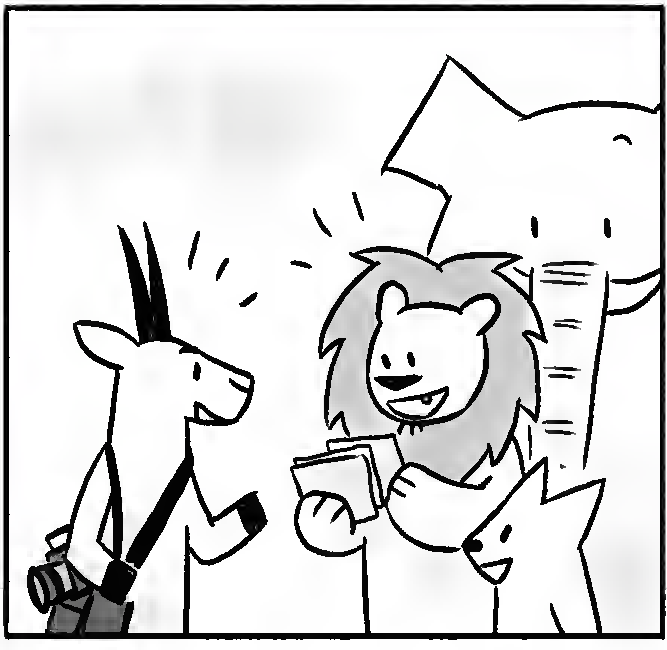
Anna was born several years later,

and we were all very happy.

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

My Father Is...





Sometimes, he helped providing photos for Roar Street Journal, and because of this I started working at RSJ too.

His job required him to travel a lot,

but he always made the best time when he was with us.
